Millions of Cigarets Sent Overseas By Volunteers

The Pay Day Parade of Dimes is over. From Nov., 1941, until V-J-Day approximately 3,000,000 cigarets were shipped overseas by the collection of the March of Dimes cigaret fund.

The constant plea of the RCAF men overseas for cigarets influenced Mrs. Janet Forrest (who until the present time has remained anonymous) to start the fund by collecting from all personnel stationed in the Jackson Building. Cigarets were sent to units in all parts of the world and to airmen in hospitals in England and France. The effort was entirely voluntary and not a "dime a dance" affair.

In telling The Evening Citizen of the success of the venture, Mrs. Forrest paid tribute to Misses L. Beilveaux and Ruth Wilson and Mrs. George Tremblay who helped with collection of the fund since its
